“Fine bouquet of sweet, ripe stone fruit and apple all dipping in newish oak with vanilla and wood aromas, some mineral and wild flowers and a touch of wild honey add depth and complexity.

On the palate – juicy, fresh, ripe, warm and dry; flavours of citrus before stone fruit, noticeable wood spice with mild tannins, medium acidity and a fairly lengthy finish; decent complexity and desirable flavours. Serve cool to serve; drink now and through 2022.”

“The wine shows lovely ripeness and elegant complexity, showing fragrant aromas of stone fruit, lemon peel, vanilla and nougat with a hint of cedary oak infusion. It is succulent and beautifully rounded on the palate, and delivers creamy texture and attractive fruit intensity, leading to a persistent, delectable finish. At its best: now to 2019.”

“Pure, focused chardonnay with tree fruit and citrus grapefruit flavours, plus a suggestion of root ginger, brioche and spicy oak. High alcohol (14.5%) promotes subtle warmth and a slightly peppery texture but the wine can handle it. Drink 2017 – 2022.”

“This is a gently rich and harmonious Chardonnay with balanced stone fruit, nutty and creamy flavours, along with good body and underlying power. Serve with roast pork over the next four years. Hand-picked fruit, clones 95 and 2/23, whole bunch pressed and predominantly fermented in puncheons, some new, with a portion in tank to 14.5% alc., the barrel component undergoing partial malolactic fermentation and all of the wine aged nine months on lees. 1,100 cases made.”
