“A flinty chardonnay with ripe flavors of baked apples and peach fuzz, this wine’s expansive oak presence doesn’t impinge on the earthier, mineral elements of its structure.”

“Fine bouquet of sweet, ripe stone fruit and apple all dipping in newish oak with vanilla and wood aromas, some mineral and wild flowers and a touch of wild honey add depth and complexity.

On the palate – juicy, fresh, ripe, warm and dry; flavours of citrus before stone fruit, noticeable wood spice with mild tannins, medium acidity and a fairly lengthy finish; decent complexity and desirable flavours. Serve cool to serve; drink now and through 2022.”

“The wine shows lovely ripeness and elegant complexity, showing fragrant aromas of stone fruit, lemon peel, vanilla and nougat with a hint of cedary oak infusion. It is succulent and beautifully rounded on the palate, and delivers creamy texture and attractive fruit intensity, leading to a persistent, delectable finish. At its best: now to 2019.”

“Pure, focused chardonnay with tree fruit and citrus grapefruit flavours, plus a suggestion of root ginger, brioche and spicy oak. High alcohol (14.5%) promotes subtle warmth and a slightly peppery texture but the wine can handle it. Drink 2017 – 2022.”

“Bright, clean and juicy with silky texture and good depth; long, smooth and toasty; racy and dense; fresh and lively.”
